The Lord's Supper

February 7, 2010

It is my solemn duty to warn the uninstructed, the profane, the scandalous, and those who secretly and impenitently live in any sin, not to approach the holy table lest they partake unworthily, not discerning the Lord's body, and so eat and drink condemnation to themselves. Nevertheless, this warning is not designed to keep the humble and contrite from the table of the Lord, as if the supper were for those who might be free from sin. On the contrary, we who are invited to the supper, coming as guilty and polluted sinners and without hope of eternal life apart from the grace of God in Christ, confess our dependence for pardon and cleansing upon the perfect sacrifice of Christ, base our hope of eternal life upon His perfect obedience and righteousness, and humbly resolve to deny ourselves, crucify our old natures, and follow Christ as becomes those who bear His name. Let us therefore, in accordance with the admonition of the apostle Paul, examine our minds and hearts to determine whether such discernment is ours, to the end that we may partake to the glory of God and to our growth in the grace of Christ.

Chapter IV, The Directory for the Public Worship of God (1647), "The Celebration of the Sacraments"

Deacons' Offering

February 7, 2010

The Deacons and Deaconesses administer the Deacons' Fund to meet needs of our church family. The Diaconate ministers in faithfulness and compassion, never revealing names, always alert and sensitive to emergencies and poverty. The care of the poor, the aged, and other suffering saints of God is a primary duty of all worthy stewardship. Providing for needy brethren is to love Christ Himself (Matthew 25:34–40). Give generously that we might share with those in our church family in times of need.

Project of the Month

February 2010

Bethany Christian Services

Bethany Christian Services manifests the love and compassion of Jesus Christ by protecting and enhancing the lives of children and families through quality social services. It is a not-for-profit, pro-life, Christian adoption and family services agency. With over seventy-five locations nationwide and international ministries in fifteen other countries, Bethany touches the lives of more than 30,000 people each year. Bethany is widely known as an adoption agency, but its Christian care extends to people struggling with unplanned pregnancies, infertility, and a multitude of other challenges. For more than fifty-five years, Bethany has responded with compassion, integrity, and commitment to the needs of children and families.

Donations for the Project of the Month (cash or checks designated to the ministry on the memo line) may be placed in one of the oak boxes at the Sanctuary entrances.

Sex in the City (Urban Ministry Conference)

By Anne Davies, City Outreach Coordinator

We live in an over-sexed culture. Wherever we look, wherever we go, sex is all around us. And even if we could somehow get away from the billboards, the media, the culture, we would still struggle—because, just like other sins, sex is ultimately a struggle of the heart.

Christians can be scared to talk about sex—maybe it makes us uncomfortable; maybe we don't want to be honest about the temptations we face; or maybe we are afraid of what others will say if they knew what sexual sins we have committed. Each of us probably knows someone who has committed or been directly affected by sexual sin, and we're probably not sure how to talk to them about it. Sexual sin impacts each of our lives in some way or another.

Praise God that this isn't the end of the story! Because of Christ we have the gift of forgiveness; through the Holy Spirit, we have the hope of living a renewed and transformed life. We can often feel overwhelmed when we think about the sinfulness of our own hearts, but God's grace is sufficient for the temptations we face.

This year's Urban Ministry Conference will address this issue of "Sex in the City," as Joshua Harris and John Freeman explore God's calling to live a life of sexual purity and offer hope in and through the gospel of Jesus Christ. The workshops (led by the staff of HarvestUSA) will offer practical advice on how to confront specific areas of sexual temptation and struggle. Workshop topics include sexual abuse, same-sex attraction, singleness, and the role of the church in dealing with sexual sin. More detailed descriptions of each workshop are available at umc.tenth.org.

Adults aren't the only ones who face these temptations. In fact, teenagers have increasingly become a prime target for sexual pressure. With this in mind, we have invited local Christian high schools to participate during the day on Friday in a pre-conference geared specifically to teenagers. Dave White and Ellen Dykas from HarvestUSA will speak to the high schoolers, and then with several other staff will facilitate gender-specific breakout groups to allow for more open and honest conversation. Doug Logan will also be leading a teen track during the main conference itself. Our goal is to equip young people with truth in their fight for purity and devotion to Christ.

If you haven't done so already, please set aside the weekend of March 5–7 so you can attend the Urban Ministry Conference. Please be praying for the preparations for the pre-conference and conference; pray that many people would come and that they would be encouraged by the hope offered in the gospel for each area of life, but particularly in the area of sexual sin. If you would like to volunteer to help with either the pre-conference or the main conference, email Anne at adavies@tenth.org.

Sexual sin often makes us feel embarrassed and sometimes hopeless, yet power over this struggle can be found in Christ. We hope you'll join us for an encouraging and challenging weekend of learning what God's Word has to say about this crucial area of life. For more information and to register, please visit umc.tenth.org. Also check out the blog related to this conference: link from www.tenth.org or umc.tenth.org.

We hope to see you at the conference in a few weeks!

About Tenth

We are a congregation of the Presbyterian Church in America adhering to the authority of Scripture and confessing the doctrine contained in the Westminster Standards. Tenth was founded in 1829, its present structure designed by John McArthur Jr., and built in 1855–1857.
